

Introducing a collaboration of conjoined twins, in a way, from yours truly and Asheville's Burial Beer Co. Our two breweries opened within just a couple months of each other in the summer of 2013, linked forever by the trials and tribulations of starting in this beer business from the bottom. "Hopped To Death" is a dry-hopped pilsner brewed with Epiphany Malt and a blend of traditional German and juicy American Hops. It's wet, hoppy, and finishes clean as all hell.
